

CANOLFAN MILLENIWM CYMRU
WALES MILLENNIUM CENTRE

Wales Millennium Centre is one of the world's leading performing arts venues, attracting and showcasing the very best opera, ballet and musical theatre productions. As home to seven of Wales' leading cultural organisations including Welsh National Opera and Urdd Gobaith Cymru, WMC is an international symbol of Welsh cultural excellence.

Our commitment to programming performances of outstanding quality and keeping prices low means that ticket sales cover less than half our annual operating expenses. In addition to public subsidies, each year we need to raise money from individual donations in order to balance our budget and maintain artistic standards.

"Adopting a slate is a very personal way for each one of us to share in the development of this wonderful cultural beacon for Wales "
Bryn Terfel OBE

Adopt a Slate - a donation of £75

When you adopt a slate at Wales Millennium Centre, you will be helping to support a unique and dynamic home for the arts. When you come and see and touch the building, you can run your hands over slate and other natural materials hewn from the landscapes of Wales. The whole design and fabric of the building is inspired by our environment and the cultural and social traditions of Wales. You can't leave without a little of Wales running through your veins.

You can adopt a slate for yourself, or as a gift for someone - perhaps to mark a delight in a particular art-form, or simply a love of Wales and its rich heritage. To show our gratitude for your donation in support of the arts, every adopter will receive a certificate and your name will be put up on our website for everyone to see. Your name, your favourite piece of music, and your own personal dedication, will also be on display on an interactive screen in the main concourse in the Centre.

"The Centre will be a great symbol for the culture of Wales as a nation, and it will attract international performers to its main stage, so I'm sure there will be lots of wonderful performances that I'll want to see over the coming years"
Ioan Gruffudd

Take Your Seat – a donation of £500*

Take Your Seat is a unique opportunity to name a seat in The Donald Gordon Theatre in a position of your choice with your own special dedication. This dedication will be carved onto a plaque and placed onto the back or the front of the chair, making it part of the very fabric of the building. Your name and dedication will also be on display on an interactive screen in the main concourse in the Centre, which will enable you experience the view of the stage from your seat.

You can name a seat for yourself, or as a gift for someone - to celebrate a birthday, an anniversary, a wedding, the arrival of a new son, daughter or grandchild or to remember a cherished moment, a significant event or a loved one. There is no more thoughtful way to express your love, show your admiration or pay your respects, while enabling WMC to keep its standards high and to lock in an outstanding programme of performances and events.

This package does not include any booking rights for the purchased seat nor advance booking privileges*
